

Papoutsy Lecture Series in Environmental Ethics & Social Responsibility

Global Climate Change: Past, Present, and Future

How has climate varied in the past? How do humans impact climate? What are some of the environmental impacts of climate change? What changes in climate can we expect in the future? These and other questions will be addressed during this conversation on the often politicized and heavily debated topic of global climate change.

Dr. John Slater

Associate Dean, School of Arts and Sciences

April 20, 2011

Walker Auditorium

3:30 – 4:30